

Law: School Submissions: Lakehead University

Let's take a look at the Bora Laskin Faculty of Law at Lakehead University.

Bora Laskin, the law school at Lakehead University, asks you to upload your personal statement in 8000 characters. They are looking for a few topics to be addressed in your submission: Why law? Your preparedness for the study of law, your future aspirations, and your interest in Lakehead University and the Bora Laskin Faculty of Law specifically. Also, you can address challenges with your academic performance or any adverse circumstances.

You need to discuss each of the 3 mandates in your statement:

- 1) Aboriginal and indigenous law
- 2) Environmental and natural resources law; and
- 3) Sole practitioner/small town law practice including the Integrated Practice Curriculum (IPC)

Applicants in the Mature category also need to submit a resume.
