

Leslie Havers – Employer information sessions

Transcript

I think one of the easiest ways to meet people from the companies is to go to their info sessions. Employers have them all the time; sometimes they're at the key recruiting dates and sometimes they're off cycle in terms of recruitment dates. We're coming here because we want to meet you. We're coming out here because we want to see what students are interested in; we want to talk to you, and we want to promote our opportunities. If you see there's an info session—and I know it's usually at the end of the day and you've had classes all day and, you want to go home, but you know what, it's an hour and a half—it could be an opportunity for you to pursue a career that you may not have even really thought of. It may be something that you really didn't think was an option for you. Don't be afraid to come out and meet people. We send our VP's out to these sessions—they want to talk to you! They're not here because it's part of their job; they're here because they want to meet you. They want to see who's going to replace them when they're ready to retire.